OUR COVER

The Yearbook cover design for 1990 is entitled "MIND, BODY, and SPIRIT." The title stands for the goal of public education - or why you come to school. An education helps you to become a better person and helps you to grow in many ways.

When you look at the cover design, you will see that there are two human profiles with OPENNESS between them. You must have an OPEN mind to learn, create, and reason. The Ram heads remind us of Highlands' mascot and of the importance of a sound and healthy BODY. Look at ~~the~~ wings and think of SPIRIT. When you have SPIRIT, you will have the desire to achieve your goals, accomplish what you set out to do, and become the best person you can be!

Thank you to Mr. Dennis Krahe for our Yearbook cover design once again. And thank you to the entire Grandview staff for your help and cooperation in publishing our 1990 Yearbook!

A large, dense collage of black and white photographs of children in various Halloween costumes. The costumes include superheroes like Superman and Batman, characters like the Ewok and Chewbacca, and various other creative outfits. A central graphic with the word "Halloween" in a stylized font is at the top.

For almost forty years, Doris and Andy Gernat have welcomed visitors to their backyard Halloween display. We've all enjoyed walking through their ghosts and goblins and eating their treats. Doris and Andy will always have a special place in our hearts as we remember the Halloweens we have shared with them.
